

25 April 2020

Dear clients,

I hope this message finds you healthy and well.

In response to last week's announcement from the Swiss Office of Public Health concerning the re-opening of some businesses, I will be offering the choice of in-person sessions starting Monday the 4th of May.

I will also continue offering online sessions for those who prefer to work via Zoom. Please indicate your preference when you make the appointment in the Comments section of my online calendar. If you have already booked an appointment, please simply let me know in advance if you will come into the office or prefer to meet online.

If you decide to come into my office for an in-person session, the following requirements must be followed.

- Your responsibility:
 - Washing hands upon arrival, either with soap and water or with hand sanitizer, which will be provided as you enter the cabinet
 - Wearing a protective mask during sessions and taking it with you when you leave
 - Coming on-time to sessions to avoid using the waiting area
 - Coughing and sneezing into the crook of your arm or a tissue, as well as avoiding touching your face while in the practice
 - Staying at home if you have a fever, cough, or other symptoms, or have had symptoms during the past 14 days
 - Maintaining a distance of at least 2 meters from other persons in the cabinet including the therapist

- My responsibility (including my colleagues in the cabinet):
 - Washing hands regularly, especially upon arrival and in-between clients
 - Wearing masks while working
 - Refraining from shaking hands with clients
 - Disinfecting commonly used surfaces regularly
 - Staying at home if I have a fever, cough, or other symptoms, or have had symptoms during the past 14 days

My goal is to provide you with a calm, relaxing and safe atmosphere for your therapy sessions. Please let me know if there is anything else that would make you feel more comfortable, and I'll do my best to provide it.

If you have any questions or concerns, please don't hesitate to contact me.

Kind regards,
David
